Who we are – Maryland Coalition of Families and Taking Flight

- Maryland Coalition of Families (MCF) is an organization that provides family peer support and navigation services to caregivers and other loved ones of a person with behavioral health needs, and helps families access needed supports and services. In addition, MCF supports and empowers family members to advocate for improving services in all systems of care for children, youth, adults and families.
- Taking Flight is a young-adult peer group supported by Maryland Coalition of Families. Taking Flight is a Maryland Youth MOVE chapter that offers informal peer support services, leadership development opportunities, and involvement in advocacy for transition age youth across the state. Haley and Brendel also represent the youth voice at various statewide behavioral health committees.
